DEC Memo: "12/2/13-Vought-Site visit by Vought as part of NYCHRS Build It Back closure initiative. Site is a turn of the century three story brownstone with front porch and small front yard directly across the Avenue from Sheepshead Bay. No one was at home at time of site visit and no signs of current occupants as shades to all windows were closed. Vought noted fill and vent port in front yard and no spill to soil at fill or vent and basement doorway was covered with a piece of plywood. Vought noted petroleum vapors emanating from behind plywood from basement. Signs suggest home had been unoccupied since Hurricane including: closed shades, no mailbox, no garbage cans. Vought spoke to neighbor at 1509 Emmons (Nancy) who confirmed that no one had been at the house at 1511 since the Hurricane. Nancy noted she was also present during the Hurricane and the oil vapor were so bad in her home (1511) that he son called DEP (who assumedly called in this spill report). Nancy however noted that she had not smelled oil for at least the past 4-5 months in her home. She noted that she can sometimes smell oil under he kitchen sink and Vought checked and noted no olfactory oil odors. Vought also inspected her basement (which penetrates entire home) and noted no signs of petroleum odors, seepage or staining. Nancy noted that owner of 1511 Emmons was also owner of 1513 Emmons and as such Vought could not perform site visit to 1513 (on other side of spill site). Nancy noted that owners representative shows up every week or so and Vought left her business card so that she could pass one to owners representative. Vought also provided Nancy with Spill Hotline number in case odors should arise again. Vought to discuss with NYCHRS Berger to see if she has any applications for site and contact information for owner so that site visit could be scheduled. 12/18/17 - Austin - Project reassigned from Vought to DeMeo - end 10/26/18 - Austin - Spill transferred from Tim DeMeo to Rick Lin - end "
